RECENT REALTY RECORDINGS

Property That has Changed Ownership in Daytona and Vicinity During the Past Seven Days.

DeLand, March 18.—Great activity in real estate still continues along the coast section of the country. Probably no city in the State the size of Daytona can boast of so many real estate sales during a year. Deeds for coast property have been filed with the county clerk since Monday as follows:

J. R. Turner, ex-officio as administrator of the estate of Paul Anderson, deceased, to David Miller, lot 12, blk — of Greene's add to Daytona.

Joseph E. Bowman, atty. in fact for Lewis W. and Anna Smith, of Ardmore, Pa., to J. D. Dargen, $175, part of river lot 7, Ormond.

Bertha K. Smith and husband, Chas. L. Smith, to John Hinson, of DeLand, $100, lot 11, blk 23, Memento (Seabreeze).

Laura L. and E. T. Mansfield, to E. B. Moore, $2900, all lot 32 and E 10 ft. of lot 31, blk 49, Daytona.

A Correction.

In Saturday's issue of the Daily News it was stated that C. L. Hahn was a candidate for Mayor of Goodall. It should have read C. L. Horn. For Collector and Marshal, the candidate is Theodore Carter.

Malicious Destructions of Property.

There is in every city or town a certain number of men who make a habit of tanking up on cheap liquor and it is then that their natural depravity, held in subservience when sober from fear of the law, crops out. These men frequently make night hideouts with their yelling or firing pistols, or perhaps the notion takes them to see what they can break up and destroy — always the property of another, of course.

Friday night some parties, supposed to have been in the same fix, paraded Ocean Boulevard late at night and upset six of the handsome coquina urns which line the sidewalks. The police have been unable to locate the guilty parties. The town council of Seabreeze has now offered a reward of $20 for information which will lead to their conviction.

Valuable Property Sold.

Saturday W. H. Peters sold to Jacob Gindick, of Pittsfield, Mass., his dwelling and lot at the corner of Ridgewood and Third avenues, the price paid being upwards of $10,000.

It is the intention of Mr. Gindick to add forty rooms to the present structure and convert it into a hotel, the work to be completed before another season.

On Wedding Tour.

Mr and Mrs. Thos. E. Barrett, who are on their bridal tour, and Miss Helen C. Reilly, sister of the bride, all of Wheeling, W. Va., left this morning for Palm Beach and other southern resorts. The party expect to return north in May and will spend the summer at Atlantic City. Miss Helen will probably return to Wheeling in July.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN.

The Beautiful Girl and the Young Man Whom She Rejected.

"What? You refuse me?" His face betraying his intense astonishment and chagrin, the young man who faced the beautiful girl who had just blasted all his hopes staggered back in an excess of emotion. Then he drew himself up laughingly.

"It is, of course, your privilege," he said, "but do you realize what I have done for you? Six months ago, when we first became acquainted, I began to spend money. Look at the carriages we have had, the flowers I have sent, the elaborate suppers I have given you! Perhaps it is wrong to speak of these things, but did you not permit me to do all this? Indeed, did you not encourage me in my lavishness? How comes it now, in view of these facts, that you reject me? Was I not right in hoping for victory?"

She shook her head. "Certainly not," she replied. "I did the right thing. Why, my dear boy, if I had had the slightest idea of marrying you do you suppose I would have permitted you to spend all that money?" — Judge.

Willing to Pay For It.

The proud father was talking with the principal of the school about his girl.

"Your daughter, sir, is not making the progress she should. She's backward in French, doesn't seem to take to German, despises mathematics and"

"Wait a minute, professor. Now tell me what's at the bottom of all this. Does she like her teachers?"

"I am afraid," replied the pedagogue, "that your daughter lacks capacity."

"Capacity? Capacity! Is that all? Then find it for her, sir, find it for her and charge it up in your bill!" — New York Press.

Other Things.

Two small country lads met on the way to school.

"Howdy, Bill?" said one. "Have you all planted any potatoes?"

"Sure," replied Bill. "We all planted high three bushel."

"Three bushel?" cried the other. "Say, Bill, me and pap planted twelve bushel."

Bill was at a loss for a minute or so and his little face lengthened. Then suddenly it brightened.

"Well," he said, "you see, we all eat something besides potatoes at our house." — Lippincott's Magazine.

A Phenomenon.

"Your husband ain't very industrious, is he?" said the woman who was sitting in the sleigh in front of the village store.

"Well," answered the woman in the spring wagon, "sometimes he is and sometimes he ain't. He'll travel for miles and miles with a shotgun on his shoulder, but he can't walk a hundred yards with an armful of wood." — Washington Star.

Nothing but the Truth.

"My work," remarked the baldheaded dentist, "is so painless that my patients often fall asleep in the chair while I am at work."

"Huh, that's nothing!" retorted his rival. "My patients nearly all insist on having their pictures taken while I am at work in order to catch the expression of delight on their faces." — Chicago News.

Where It Was Warmed.

"B-r-r-r! This car's as cold as Greenland. Why don't you warm it?" complained the passenger.

"G'wan!" retorted the conductor. "Wasn't it warmed all night last night in the car barn? You people want the earth, don't you?" — Newark News.

The Fountain of Youth.

Mr. Jones—My daughter is only eighteen. You had better wait until she is older. The Lover—Well, I've waited two years for her to get older, but she still stays at eighteen.—Judge.

A Kick. Jolley—What a bright face your baby has!

Popeye—Yes. Unfortunately, though, it isn't bright enough to light the way to its mouth in the dark when you have to give it colic medicine at night. — Philadelphia Press.

Waiting For a Fairy Tale.

Little Clara—Mother, tell me a fairy tale. Mrs. Gayboy (glancing at the clock)—Wait until your father comes home, dear, and he will tell us both one. — Modern Society.

A Sticker.

Fusser—Yes, sir, old man, I'm a regular shine in society! Friend (?—A sort of a parlor lamp, eh? No matter how often you turn 'em down they won't go out. — Princeton Tiger.

All a Mistake.

Julius—How well Miss de Train holds her age! Julia—She doesn't hold it at all. She gives it away every time she smiles. — Chicago Tribune.

Easy When You Know How.

"It's remarkable," said the doctor, "how much excitement a bean or some equally small object can cause when it is lodged in a baby's nose. This morning a frantic mother rushed into my office and implored me to extract a bead which her baby had put into its nose. Improvising a suitably bent probe from a hairpin I borrowed from the hysterical woman, I succeeded in removing the bead in less time than it would take to count six. And the first thing the woman said was: 'Why, I could have done that myself!' — New York Press.

Repartee.

"If they ever get to writing the truth in epigrams," said the man with the angry eyes, "I hope I may live long enough to write what will go on your tombstone."

"If they ever put the truth on 'em," retorted the man with the aggressive chin, "I hope I'll live long enough to read what goes on yours." — Judge.

Accent on the "Man."

"Well," he said during their quarrel, "I suppose you'll be wanting a divorce next?"

"Really," she replied coldly, "I don't see why it should be necessary in this case. A woman doesn't need a divorce unless she has been married to a man." — Philadelphia Press.

Under Suspicion.

"What do you think of that college professor who says he never kissed a girl?"

"Possibly," said Miss Cayenne, "it is the simple confession of an unworldly soul, and then again it may be a very sly way of advertising for bids." — Washington Star.

A Palpable Hit.

Bunker—You've seen Miss Dash on the links, eh? Then you must have noticed how recklessly she approaches the ball.

Newcome—Yes, that was the first thing to strike my eye. — Catholic Standard and Times.

A Forecast.

Little six-year-old Dot while conversing with her mamma the other day asked, "Mamma, if I'm alive when I get married may I please live at home with you and papa?" — Lippincott's Magazine.

Quite Natural.

"What's his name?" "Bill Short." "Why does every one call him Jones?" "For Short." — New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Gilbert Walden.

Gilbert Walden, who will appear at the Opera House tomorrow night, will be assisted by Miss Elma Laredo in his musical entertainment. Miss Laredo is also a noted rifle shot and will give an exhibition of rifle shooting and lariat throwing. The Memphis Commercial Appeal, speaking of Gilbert Walden, says:

"Gilbert Walden, the Cowboy Orator and noted elocutionist, gave a splendid entertainment here. It was replete with songs and music and touching and humorous stories of the old South. His rendition of the 'Bells' is wonderful. He told thrilling incidents of Cowboy and Indian life, and closed his exhibition with splendid rifle shooting and expert work with the lasso."

The launch Kingfisher has been taken off her run and is now for charter.

Geo. S. Adams, Jacksonville; J. R. Turner, DeLand; Chas. A. Fuller, New York are guests of Schmidt's Villa.

The Cherokee was chartered by a party of twenty-one guests of The Palmetto yesterday for a trip up the Tomoka.

Geo. L. Field and wife, J. S. Barnes, Nicholasville, Ky.; Mrs. W. F. Dickerson, Mrs. J. C. Richardson, Lexington, Ky.; C. E. Budd and wife, Theodore Budd, Miss Ethel C. Budd, Pemberton, N. J., are guests of The Palmetto.

W. M. Hoffmaster and wife, Battle Creek, Mich.; Mrs. J. E. Cruzen, Paxton, Ill.; Mrs. Mary Abbott, Indianapolis; Mrs. L. M. Hamilton, Wellsville, N. Y.; Mrs. J. S. Van Duzer, Miss L. A. Kane, Horsehead, N. Y.; W. E. Terry, W. A. Robbins, Galesburg, Ill., are guests of The Austin.

PREPARING FOR INSPECTION.

The Halifax Rifles Getting Ready for Visit of General Foster and Colonel Norvell.

Everything is getting lively in local military circles at present on account of the inspection of Co. K., second regiment of the Florida state troops, popularly known as the Halifax Rifles.

At the inspection tonight Lieut. Fred. Caldwell will command the company, which is now without a captain, due to the promotion of its former commanding officer, Major J. B. Parkinson.

This will be the first time the troops have been inspected since the state encampment, during the first week in September, last year. The inspection is to be made by Adjutant-General J. Clifford R. Foster and Colonel S. T. Norvell, United States Army, retired, who has been designated by the United States War Department as inspector of the Florida state troops.

It has been said that there are some business men in Daytona who strenuously protest against their employees who are members of military companies getting off to attend to any military duties during business hours. Yet these same business men would think that they were being shamefully treated if the military did not protect their property during the time of a riot or disturbance of any kind. The military is a necessity, and it is only through the co-operation of the business men employing members of the state troops that the organization can be kept up to a high standard.

Adjutant-General Foster has worked hard and faithfully to improve the standard of the state troops, and with the limited means at his disposal, has accomplished wonders, but there are always those who are ready and willing to criticize every defect that can be found. The critics should be the ones to suffer and then they would be the first to see the importance of maintaining a well

At the annual inspection of the company last year an excellent showing was made, both in numbers and in efficiency and it is hoped and expected that the company will do equally as well this year.

A grand military ball will be given hunting the "bulls" of Wall street with little success. He now proposes to take a shot at the bears in Texas.

He may have better luck as the latter

H. B. Clark, president of the Hi-his wife, is a guest of The Clarendon.

Their Only Chance.

A party of soldiers was taken to the shooting range for the first time.
The men first fired at a target 500 yards away, and not one hit it. They were next tried at a target 200 yards away, and still every one missed. They were at last tried at one just 100 yards away, but no one hit it.
"Attention!" thundered the drill sergeant. "Fix bayonets! Charge! It's your only chance!"—Kansas City Independent.

PUNCH'S PHILOSOPHY.

Do good and care not to whom. No
one will notice it.
How much better it is to get wisdom than gold—and how much easier!
Happy is the man who is admired and praised by his fellows—for he is dead.

A good reputation is a fair estate, but there are others on which it is easier to get a mortgage.

If you insist on telling the truth you may probably shame the devil, but you won't be considered very cheery in society.

Virtue alone is powerful, but in combination with American dollars she is invincible and can even marry a duke.

WHIST AND THE WOMAN.

"I knew when I first heard the case
There was a woman in it!
Oh, Mr. Brown, is that your case?
I'll play in just a minute.
Poor boy! I don't know what he'll do!
It seems a dreadful scandal!
Oh, dear! I've dropped a card or two!
They are so hard to handle!"

"Oh, thank you, thank you, Mr. Brown!
I fear you got a bump, sir!
It seems 'tis known all over town—
What did you say was trump, sir?
Was that your ace? Oh, well, then, I will change the card I'm playing.
Oh, yes, you did it, Mrs. B!'
Let's see—what was I saying?"

"Dear, dear! What was it that you led?
I wish that I were able
To keep the cards all in my head!
It fell beneath the table.
I think, yes, it's right over there!
How careless I was to let it Slip from my hand! Oh, Mr. Pare,
How good of you to get it!"

"My lead? Oh, pardon me! I thought You took the trick—that lost one.
Has diamonds been led or not?
How these things do slip past one!
Oh, Amy, did you hear that Sue
Was coming for a visit?
What! Did I take that club trick too?
Oh, that's trump signal, is it?"

"Oh,shaw! I've lost my king! Dear,
dear!
How stupid I was to lose it!
I thought that was was played back here!
Fray, Mr. Brown, excuse it!
They get the odd! I thought we had!
Some one roused, I'm certain!
Oh, Mr. Brown, that is too bad!
I'm awful sorry!" (Continued)

Memory Insured.

"George," sighed the maiden fair to see, leaning softly against George's vest, "are you sure you will not forget me?"

"Perfectly, my precious," whispered George, straining his neck to pull his head back far enough to get her pointpadding out of his eyes.

"I know you say so now, but are you s-u-r-e, ducky, that you will think often of me?"

"I shall think always of you, my pigeon."

"Of course you tell me this now, but —but—men are so fickle. Sometimes I fear your mind may turn to another."

"Never, my heart's jewel," declared George, recollecting how the matinee heroes swear undying affection.

"You make me so happy, but nevertheless I have this haunting doubt. I wish I could feel perfectly sure and confident that you will go right on thinking of me for months and months."

"My darling, if you want to be positively sure you need only to reflect that the ring I gave you on your birthday
I bought at a dollar down and 50 cents a week."

Blissfully happy in the knowledge that George could not fail to have her in his mind for some time to come, the apple of his eye permitted her alabaster brow to rest against his cheek.—Chicago Tribune.

Another Nickel Lost.

The motorman was making his complaint.

"The fellow gave me the signal," he said, "and when I refused to stop he amashed one of the car windows."

"H'm," said the superintendent.
"Was the car full?"

"Well, it was full, but I suppose he could have squeezed in some way."

"Thirty days' layoff. You've been working long enough to know the rule of the company."—Detroit Tribune.

Fire in Kingston.

The residence of Wm. H. Parker on Beach street, Kingston, caught fire yesterday, at noon, and was saved from total destruction only by the heroic work of the family and neighbors.

The fire caught in the garret, from a defective flue, while the family was at dinner, and burning fiercely when discovered by Mr. Parker, whose cries for help soon attracted a number of the neighbors to the scene. Buckets were brought and with the help of David Carlick, Anton Mass and Wiley Milton, the flames were extinguished, but not before the roof was badly damaged.

Notice

The Grand Atlantic Hotel has some vacancies and will, for advertising purposes, name very low rates, balance of season. Call and see the agent and get our rates.

Launch Party.

Maj. Adair, of the U. S. War Department, chartered the Cruiser, Capt. Pellet commanding, and invited twenty-one of his friends, guests of Schmidt's Villa, to accompany him on a trip up the Tanaka. Mr. Schmidt saw to it that an excellent and abundant lunch was prepared, and sent waters along to arrive the guests, who undoubtedly thoroughly enjoyed the day's outing.

Pleased With Daytona.

Capt. Geo. L. Weitzel and Com. Cassanova Harry C. Lewis of Williams, Pa., made a tour through Florida and at Hanna, Cuba, by chance, met their old time friend, Col. St. Paul, and after a pleasant greeting they were induced to visit Daytona on their way home.

The gentlemen were satisfied while here that they had seen the most beautiful spot in the State. Capt. Weitzel is an expert quill pointer and Commissioner Leim is the champion pickle player of Pennsylvania. They proved their skill in a tournament with Maj. Conway and Col. St. Paul, by losing all games and reputation as champions.

Charlie Ludwig and Harry Ware, come over from St. Augustine to Deland Saturday in an Orient backyard in two hours. The road, owing to the heavy rains, was in poor shape for fast time.

Frank H. Webber, expects again at Titusville, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city.

W. H. Peters left for St. Augustine yesterday where he will spend a few days.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between the source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29° 24' north and 81° 10' west, 70 to 75 miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic coast, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by a forest with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded streets. The result is that among the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live oaks and water oaks and cypresses, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overhang the street and walk, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy leaved magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amolepis climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, macadam and shell roads and streets, rendering it and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, tree-lined avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those seeking homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 200 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach

lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 200 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled palm fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at oblique, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the grey-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year, while the strong and expert swimmer, can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula

lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature

of Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected or homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying. Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

Hunting and fishing good. Ex. perience guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.
